

Sponsorship Opportunities at PODC 2020

Background

The ACM Symposium on Principles of Distributed Computing \(PODC\) is an international forum dedicated to the theory, design, analysis, implementation and application of distributed systems and networks. Since its inception in 1982, PODC has established itself as the main annual meeting for researchers interested in the foundations of distributed computing and it attracts leading researchers from both academia and industry.

The 39th meeting of PODC will be held in Grand Hotel Salerno, Salerno, Italy, on Aug 3-7 2020, and we anticipate around 200 top researchers from all over the world to attend the main conference and its satellite workshops and tutorials. By sponsoring PODC 2020, your company will get the opportunity to reach out for future employees, collaborators, and customers. As we put a special emphasis on attracting student participants, sponsoring PODC 2020 will also expose your company to the next generation of brilliant young researchers in distributed computing.

Sponsoring Packages

Items included in our sponsorship packages:

- Logo (LG): Place your company's logo in the conference webpage (with a link to your company's webpage), that serves as a hub for registration, local information, the program, etc., and in the conference proceedings distributed among academic institutions all over the world.
- Material in Welcome Package (MW): Add information sheets, pens, post-its, and so on to the welcome package distributed to all conference attendees.
- Information Stand (IS): Set up your company's information stand in the conference's lobby directly in front of the main conference room.
- Main Stage Banner (SB): Place a banner of your company on the conference's main stage.

- Slide in Business Meeting (BM): Add a slide presenting your company to the presentation of the conference business meeting.
- Contact Details of Student Participants (CD): Gain early access to the contact details of our student participants (contingent on the student's consent during the registration process).
- Full Registration Tickets (RT): Receive a number of full registration tickets for the conference including its satellite workshops and tutorials, the welcome reception, and banquet dinner (each such ticket is worth 1,200 USD for non-ACM members).
